

Kentucky State Fire School

Lexington, KY

June 10-14, 2026

509 Fast Food Restaurant Fires

With over 300,000 fast food restaurants in the United States, odds are good that your department will respond to a fire in one of them. This course explores the unique challenges posed by fast food restaurant fires, analyzes the dangers of construction techniques used in today's chain restaurants and discusses tactics for safely mitigating fires in the restaurant environment, with a special focus on how they differ from residential firefighting practices.

This ½ day course will be offered Saturday afternoon.

Lead Instructor: Joseph Polenzani, Franklin (TN) Fire Department (Ret.)

2026 Kentucky State Fire School
Central Bank Center
410 W. Vine Street, Lexington, KY